Creed "Wood" Armchair

Rodolfo Dordoni

DESCRIPTION

The Creed "Wood" Armchair has a molded structural polyurethane shell with interior layer in flexible, high-density polyurethane. The back of the armchair rests on a sophisticated curved sucupira veneered support, while the front of the Creed "Wood" chair sits on legs made of solid sucupira wood with stained mink color finish.

The collection of Creed seating elements comes with a full-blown personality and was developed to establish a lively, meaningful conversation with the many accessories from the 2016 collection. The carefully-engineered proportions of the elements in the Creed series allow these products to be seamlessly integrated into residential and hospitality settings, like lounge areas, waiting rooms, corporate offices, and boutiques.
