Oliver

Rodolfo Dordoni

DESCRIPTION

The inspiring principle of the Black-Nickel or varnished Pewter color structure of the Oliver family of tables is the fascinating visual effect of a metal stem that melts into a diffused flow.

With a gesture dear to the Modern Movement, the base evolves seamlessly from a thin tube into a circular base, offering a continuous glossy surface.

Conceived both in the lounge and side table versions, it features a precious top in Calacatta or Stone Grey marble.

A piece of furniture that fully interprets the essence of classic contemporaneity characteristic of the Minotti code
