Cornice Sideboard

DESCRIPTION

Elegant and sophisticated, the Cornice sideboard scale down its salient features to suit its new purpose. The element that gives the unit its character is the frame that runs around the edges of all the panels, punctuating the structure and drawing attention to the run of modules. Just as stylish, but slightly more eccentric, is the hinged lid style opening of the doors on each end. This design detail is sure to make Cornice even more of a statement piece, allowing it to fulfill its destiny and take center stage in the room rather than be confined just to its closed form. An attractive option is covering the doors and top in synthetic leather.
