DESCRIPTION

A round version of the SkLO hold vessel is suspended from a brass “pin”, made of a continuously curved brass bar. The “pin” overlaps at the bottom, allowing for removal of the glass element. Three standard overall drop lengths available: 36" with only the “pin”, 42" and 48" drops available with a rigid brass stem extension. The socket is housed in a brass cup, hung independently on its own exposed fabric-wrapped electrical cord, suspending the bulb within the glass diffuser. Handblown glass, no two exactly alike.
