Quincy

Rodolfo Dordoni

DESCRIPTION

The deliberately simple design, in the shape of a parallelepiped, defined by a large volume, spotlights the chevron-patterned stitching that characterizes the bench covering.

The bench is available in two versions: Quincy, covered in fabric or leather, and Quincy Chevron, only in leather with stitching. The decorative pattern, which draws a series of stitched "V"s, wraps Quincy Chevron up in an interesting three-dimensional effect, highlighting the esprit couture of sartorial craftsmanship combined with bold, linear shapes.

It is available in three sizes, in Nabuk and all the leathers and fabrics of the collection. It sits on brushed aluminum blades with glossy varnished Brandy color finish, that contrasts yet complements the texture of the covering.

The bench can be used on its own or matched with the various seating systems, blending elegantly into living areas with a contemporary feel.
