Sendai armchair

INODA+SVEJE

DESCRIPTION

Named after the city of trees, Sendai.

Like slender trunks, the elegant, polished legs rest on the ground, lifting the enveloping upholstered body and creating a soft rhythm of vertical lines.

The compact and well-proportioned silhouette of both the chairs and sofa opens up a new way of using the dining space: as a living room within the living room, a hybrid situation, such as when dinner is served on a large table, while guests meet and socialize around a lounge table. The possibility of having both the armchair and the dining and lounge small armchairs also in the 360° swivel version with return makes the Sendai seats exceptionally comfortable for both residential and hospitality environments.
