Sunray Luke

Rodolfo Dordoni

DESCRIPTION

Highly versatile, the Sunray Luke bench features a design that combines its simple, well-proportioned shape with a rich interwoven covering.

An eclectic outdoor furnishing piece, the Sunray Luke bench is designed to be used as a seat, a footstool and, when required, a support surface. Linear, with a simple volume of pleasing proportions, it is covered in a woven fabric with a three-dimensional effect that is soft to the touch, giving it a comfortable, homely look.

It is available in four sizes and sits on a polished Bronze metal frame, in harmonious contrast with the texture of the upholstery.
