Vostra Wood

Walter Knoll Team

DESCRIPTION

Successful design knows no expiry date. On the contrary: what is already good becomes valuable over time. The function proves its worth. The comfort is compelling, the shape pleasing, the classic is strong enough to adapt – so that it stays.

Since 1949, Vostra has been synonymous with modern living. Initially standing on tubular steel legs, the chair also rested on softer-looking wooden legs from the 1950s. Clear, modern and with discreetly upholstered button tufting, it drew a fine line in the design of the fifties.

To celebrate its seventieth birthday, we are reloading the classic with solid wood legs, a sensitive evolution. Ensuring Vostra Wood cuts a convincing figure whatever the course of events. And remains forever young.
